Please extend a helping hand to AAP’s Walking Wounded Program. AdoptaPlatoon assists our U.S. Troops who have been injured or wounded in Iraq or Afghanistan as they are moved from military hospitals and enter the Wounded Warrior Transition Command or the V.A. system and into the civilian world. Our Nation’s injured and wounded Troops need extra help for themselves and/or their families financially paying utility bills, rent and mortgage payments to keep a roof over their heads, car repair costs, vehicle insurance, providing groceries for a month or two or helping with school clothes and supplies for their children. Sometimes, just sending them to a baseball or football game to lift their spirits makes a huge difference to these wounded Heroes.

They have endured many medical procedures, surgeries, physical therapy and hardship and by extending an AAP helping hand, we are letting our active duty wounded warriors and our wounded veterans (Afghanistan and Iraq wars) know that America will never forget them and they are our HEROES.
